

Research Proposal Guidelines

Continuing the rich research history of the 16pf[®] Questionnaire and the Inwald Personality Inventory-2 requires ongoing, high-caliber partnerships. PAN offers an assistance program to encourage collaboration on work that aligns with our research goals.

PAN is interested in research and methodological studies that further an understanding of individual differences. Researchers interested in using archival data sets are also encouraged to submit a proposal for research assistance. Research addressing questions relevant to organizational settings will receive priority for support.

Approved research proposals will receive discounted test materials and scoring. We offer this assistance in exchange for your agreement to share your research results and data with PAN, and to allow PAN to use the results for future analyses (e.g., archival data sets, meta-analysis, etc.).

To request research assistance, write a brief proposal, following these guidelines:

- 1. Title of the study. Please indicate the full title of the study that will be conducted. If you are requesting PAN materials or services for more than one study, you must complete a separate proposal for each study.
- 2. Name and organizational affiliation of the Primary Researcher for the study.
- 3. Names and organizational affiliations of all other researchers associated with the study.
- 4. Brief Abstract (300 words or less).
- 5. Main research questions to be addressed by the study.
- 6. Description of the study design and methodology including any experimental manipulations, procedures for assigning individuals to groups, time frames for administering instruments, instruments that will be included in the research, etc.
- 7. Description of the sample. Please be as specific as possible. Also be sure to include the anticipated number and sex of the research participants.
- 8. Administration method (e.g., individual, small groups, paper and pencil, computer, Internet, etc.).
- 9. Planned analyses.
- 10. Estimated time frame for data collection.
- 11. Estimated date you will submit a report to PAN if support for the project is approved.
- 12. Specific assistance you are requesting from PAN.
- 13. Submit your proposal to: consulting@panpowered.com.
